WEATHER PROBABILITIES .- For this section fair weather; slight changes in temperature; northerly winds becoming variable.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.—To-morrow will be the Fourth of July, the 119th auniversary of the declaration of independence, and, as usual, will be observed in this city as a holiday, as it is throughout the country. Indeed, next to Christmas, the Fourth of July is more generally observed in this city than any other holiday. The govern-ment and city offices and banks will be closed, the postoffice will keep Sunday hours, the telephone and telegraph hours, the telephone and telegraph offices will be open but part of the day, at the railroad offices only such business as is necessary will be transacted, and after morning hours many of the stores will be closed. "Outings" will be the order of the day, and should the weather be fine a large number of the city's population will spend the day out of town, either at the various excursion resorts or at convenient points cursion resorts or at convenient points in the woods or along the river. The day bids fair to be a noisy one, as pow day bids fair to be a noisy one, as pow der-crackers and other explosives are cheap. It is hoped that the holiday may be an enjoyable one; that those who take a day off may be benefitted thereby, and that they do not convert the day into one of excesses or abuse.

THE GLASS WORKS .- Saturday, June 29, marked the closing of the second year of the Virginia Glass Co., of Alexandria. This year has been successful beyond their highest expectations. After the glass had been worked out of the tank, the fires were drawn out at two o'clock. It is the custom of all glass factories in the United States and Canada to work ten months in the year and to take July and August, the two hot months, for vacation. They have been particularly fortunate in not los-ing any time during the year. All the time lost was half a day, due to a breaktime lost was half a day, due to a breakage in the machinery. During the year one of the company, A. J. Christy, withdrew to engage in other business,
leaving seven in all, namely, Pres., Ed ward S. Reeve; vice president, Henry Schnell; secretary, John S. Bordner;
treasurer, George H. Schwarzmann;
superintendent, Joseph H. Ramsey;
board of managers, Peter Astryke, Lorenzo Wolford and J. H. Ramsey.
After the fires were drawn at 3:45 p. m. After the fires were drawn at 3:45 p. m a banquet was served on the grounds to about one hundred employees, the firm, with their wives and families and many of their friends. Prominent among the number was noticed our highly esteemed townsman, Mr. I. C. O'Nesl. Ice cream, cake, soda and all the delicacies of the season were served and enjoyed to the fullest extent by all present. The rest of the time was spent socially, and the children played contents. socially, and the children played games and enjoyed themselves generally.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING .- During the storm about eight o'clock Saturday evening the residence of Mr. R. P. Quisenberry, situated on Machodoc creek, in King George county, was struck by lightning. Mr. Quisenberry with his family of four, and sister-in-law, Miss Harriet D. Price, were seated around the supper table when there was a flesh of lightning which struck was a flash of lightning which struck the house. The current ran down the chimney and, bursting out in the bed room above, shattered most of the furniture in 'he room. The current then ran do n into the dining room, tore the mantal from the wall and shattered everything in its path. The whole family were stunned and remained unconscious for half an hour with no one around to assist them. When they regained consciousness the storm was over, but the room was filled with sulphurous gas. Mr. Quisenberry was the first to know anything and in his rush for the door stumbled over Miss Price. Upon picking her up in his arms he found her in an unconscious condition. As soon as she was carried in the fresh air she regained consciousness. The damage done the house is very great, but the family have much to be thankful for in escaping serious in-

The defense called in Alexander H. Martyr. Then the instructions were arranged mairly to the effect that if the jury found Williams to be an accom-plice in the robbary, and his testimony uncorroborated as to some essential fact, they should acquit the accused, Auffort and Desmond. Friday, Remnant Day, Early in the mornings and late in the evenings, before and after busy hours, each stock is ransacked and relieved of its remainders. Wraps, Suits, Underwear, &c., of their "odds and ends" and extreme sizes-Dress Stuffs, Linens, Ribbons, Laces, Upholstery Goods, &c., of their "short lengths"-Gloves, Hosiery, Shoes, Corsets, &c., of their broken lines of sizes-in fact, the 'left overs" of everything, for they are all remnants. Friday morning we assort and ticket-and let the former price be what it may-mark every remnant at a reduced price, a price low enough to sell it quickly. As a rule, the intrinsic value is unchanged—the thing is as desirable as ever -the reduced price is the penalty of being a remnant. The soiled, the scratched, the mussed, the imperfect things you can have for what they are worth to you.

Bargains every Friday, but just now-in the midst of the great summer buying season, when all have some want to fill, Friday opportunities are many and unusual and should on no account be missed.
